

Hamilton

Funeral Home

& CREMATION SERVICES

We at Hamilton Funeral Home are proud of the services we provide and the commitment we make to keep the community safe as we continue to celebrate the lives of those we love. As we continue to deal with social distancing and other regulations which includes the wearing of masks in all indoor settings, know our mission does not waiver.

Hamilton Funeral Home is proud to have professionally served our community during the novel coronavirus (Covid-19) pandemic. As you know, we pride ourselves on being transparent and want out outline changes to our current environment:

- We continue to respond, as needed, in a professional, compassionate, and timely manner.
- We will still make all necessary arrangements for services. We offer an online collaboration center, video conferencing via Zoom, phone conversations, and email communications. In-person meetings for family members are still available if there are no symptoms present for those attending. These guides are applicable to both at-need and pre-need situations.
- Our office remains open and any needs that require a meeting can be scheduled by calling David at the funeral home.
- We have implemented new technology and are offering alternate means for extended family and friends to be part of any future services. Online live streaming, scheduled webcasting, and off-site recording, along with our website's centralized tribute wall will assist in connecting with others.
- Per the governing entities, it is important to know that holdings services right now is both possible and encouraged. Attendees are limited in the number of people at any event and social distancing must be observed at all times. Please ask for number of attendees allowed as it will vary depending on location where services are held.
- Our Government has now ordered all persons entering indoor facilities to wear a mask. If you have a medical condition that prevents you from wearing a covering on your face, you are exempt from this order.
- Receptions are now not allowed, at least for the next several weeks and events with food and beverages cannot take place with large gatherings. It is important to note that visitations are considered part of the funeral rites and therefore do not change in this latest executive order.

As we come to understand what these changes mean to funeral care in the weeks and months to come, please know that we will continue to serve you with the dignity, honesty, integrity, and respect you deserve. As always, we appreciate your trust in us. Please feel free to contact us with any questions or concerns at 507-532-2933.

Sincerely,

David and Elly Sprik

19 November 2020